1. Legislation at the September session of parliament to favor sterling area imports by the restriction of imports from dollar sources.

2. A complementary action by the British authorities to reduce British production costs to the greatest extent possible. The aim would be to stimulate the sale of British goods in the Canadian and other world markets by cutting the high price level they have been carrying.

The advantage of this course, in the opinion of trade experts here, is that it would put dollar purchasing power into the hands of the sterling area countries by giving them a preferred position in the Canadian market. At the same time, to the stipulation that British production costs should be lowered in every way possible, it would make British goods more saleable in other world markets. Thus Britain and the sterling area countries would be well on the road to greater production, lowered unit costs and increased sales in more world markets. The present tendency to retreat behind bilateral trade deals would be ended.

BRITISH PREFERENCE
Government economists take the view that an enlarged British preference, brought about by restrictions on dollar imports, would be a sound course for Canada to follow in the present situation. They recognize, however, that the policy might be quite ineffective in stimulating the sale of British goods unless British prices—while mean British production costs—can be reduced. Can Britain get her production costs down?

The opinion here is that to a degree, lower British prices are long to the long-term future. One reason that British prices are high is the moderate mass production machinery with which the British factory worker is equipped. On an average per worker, the American investment in machinery is twice that of the British. Automatically, this greatly increases the efficiency of the American worker.

Cabinet Opposes Bilateral Dealing

Bulk Purchases By U.S. No Solution For Crisis

The following article is the last of three analyzing the British trade crisis in its relation to Canadian economy. The articles represent a digest of views of senior federal government experts.

By Norman M. MacLeod

OTTAWA, July 22.—(BUP)—Cabinet ministers and top-flight government economists alike are obviously cool here towards the idea that the United States should enter into a series of bulk commodity purchase deals with Empire sources to solve the British currency crisis.

They hold that any such scheme would be only an extension of the evil of bilateral trading, and that instead of leading to a solution it ultimately would intensify the problem.

The solution which top opinion in cabinet and government circles favors is one which instead of leading the world deeper into the morass of bilateral deals, would start British industry on the road to greater production, lower unit costs, and hence increased sales in more numerous world markets.

PROPOSED MOVES
In substance, here is the pattern of solution of the British crisis which is being canvassed informally as yet—in the circles which ultimately formulate policy in the cabinet here.

1. Legislation at the September session of parliament to favor sterling area imports by the restriction of imports from dollar sources.

2. A complementary action by the British authorities to reduce British production costs to the greatest extent possible. The aim would be to stimulate the sale of British goods in the Canadian and other world markets by cutting the high price level they have been carrying.

The advantage of this course, in the opinion of trade experts here, is that it would put dollar purchasing power into the hands of the sterling area countries by giving them a preferred position in the Canadian market. At the same time, to the stipulation that British production costs should be lowered in every way possible, it would make British goods more saleable in other world markets. Thus Britain and the sterling area countries would be well on the road to greater production, lowered unit costs and increased sales in more world markets. The present tendency to retreat behind bilateral trade deals would be ended.

BRITISH PREFERENCE
Government economists take the view that an enlarged British preference, brought about by restrictions on dollar imports, would be a sound course for Canada to follow in the present situation. Housing Crisis Looming Here
The demand for more expensive houses across Canada. This was mainly due to shortage of cash for big down payments. Demand would swing upward sharply if down payments were in the $300 to $500 category.

"For houses ranging between $12,000 and $15,000 demand has definitely reached the saturation point," he said. "It is possible reaching that point too, for houses costing between $8,000 and $11,000."

However, demand for rental accommodation was by no means satisfied even in more extensive brackets.

New construction has eased the Montreal situation unhelpfully in one field—places for rent at between $75 and $100 a month. There have been numerous drops there of rents in the $50 to $100 category down to $75 and $85 but things still are tough in the below-$75 class.

The estimate of a $700,000,000 expenditure in new home construction in 1949 was made recently in an official analysis of investment trends. It envisages 30,000 new units, a record by at least 5,000.

CALGARY, July 22.—(CP)—Post office officials here are in a quandary. They got a letter today addressed to "Calgary's Chief Cowboy."

Douglas Proposal Believed Doubtful

Re-opening of Dominion-Provincial Talks Unlikely

Alberta government "doubts very much" if another Dominion-provincial conference can be successfully reconvened.

Premier T. "Tommy" Douglas of Saskatchewan proposed yesterday the Dominion-Provincial conference be reconvened. The conference broke down in 1946 because Quebec and Ontario refused to turn over some tax powers to federal government.

Other provincial governments signed over provincial taxes to Dominion government in return for federal government's taking over payment of various provincial programs and would take care of all unemployment.

The federal grants scheme whereby the Dominion government is paying Alberta $2,000,000 towards hospital and other social services compared to what we would have got if the Dominion-Provincial conference had been a success, said Dr. Cross.

Manslaughter Case Dropped

A Calgary man was cleared of a double manslaughter charge in a court trial today.

Mckinnon first appeared for trial July 6 and was remanded.

Dr. M. M. Cantor, provincial coroner, cancelled the inquest following the accident and recommended manslaughter charges be dropped.

Boy Injured In Car Smash

City lad is in hospital here after being hurled to the pavement when the car in which he was a passenger was involved in a collision at 100 street and 100 avenue at 8:25 p.m. last night.

Boy, Brian, 13, 11137 103 street, was picked up from the street by a city doctor and driven to the Royal Alexandra hospital.

He was found to have numerous bruises, a cut knee and possible concussion. The cut received six stitches.

Carl C. Junk, 11342 95 street, was driving the car in which Brian was riding. He told police he was going north on 100 street. As he approached 100A avenue a car came into the intersection. He said he was unable to see it.

Edgar W. Phillips, 9042 100A avenue, told police he was proceeding west on 100 street. He saw Junk's car but thought he had right of way and was in the clear.

Neither driver was injured, and damage was not severe.

GOLFERS GET MAD, CHOP DOWN HAZARDS

RED OAK, Ia., July 22.—(AP)—It appears that some golfers will stoop to anything to improve their score.

For years two trees in the middle of No. 6 fairway about 60 yards from the tee have spoiled many a nice drive.

But one morning this week golfers found the trees had been felled during the night.

Club President Tom Carter said it was the work of "a party or parties unknown."

Pact Approval Marks Change in U.S. Policy

WASHINGTON, July 22.—(AP)—The senate vote approving the Atlantic Pact last night empowered President Truman to establish the United States' defensive frontiers against Russia in the heart of Europe.

That is exactly what he now proposes to do as quickly as possible—not only to keep the Russians at arms length but also to spread the cloak of American power over the borders of weaker states.

The United States is thus embarked on a revolutionary new course in its foreign policy. It is pledged—or in a legal sense short of it—to act in close aid of 16 European countries, or Canada, or attacked.

It is committed to a program of mutual aid and expects to share a single strategic plan for the defense of the whole western world. Treaty supporters believe greater assurance of world peace will result from all these actions and arrangements; critics have denounced the alliance and its companion rearmament program as a new incitement to Russia.

The state department, which negotiated the unprecedented pact and military leaders believe the policy of close military ties with western Europe is premature in line with the harsh realities of the age of atomic bombs, round-the-world airplanes and guided missiles.

Twelfth Country To Sign Treaty

Legislatures of seven of the 12 countries which signed the North Atlantic treaty now have ratified it.

Legislative ratification has been completed by the United States, Canada, Britain, Belgium, Norway, Luxembourg, and Iceland.

In Italy and the Netherlands, the lower houses have ratified and upper-house action is pending.

France's national assembly is expected to ratify this weekend.

British Crystal Making Comeback

Centuries-Old Industry Given Special Privileges

STOURBRIDGE, England, July 22.—(CP)—The centuries-old handicraft of crystal glass work is making a 20th century comeback in Britain—a comeback almost from the brink of extinction.

British crystal glassware industry, now worth $200,000 a year, still relies on the skilled hands of the glassmaker as it did four centuries ago. No machine has been found to match the beauty, intricacy or even the precision of hand-blown, hand-cut crystal.

The craft almost died out during the war when factories went into war production. But now government officials and industrialists are waging a campaign to keep it alive, to teach it to younger hands.

TOOLS UNCHANGED

In the hot factories during the Worcestershire-Stourbridge border area the glassmakers of today still blow the glass with their own breath, mould it with hand tools almost unchanged in centuries and cut intricate designs with little more than his eye to guide him.

His crystal, heavy and sparkling, which he boasts is "fit for royal tables," represents one of the few hand trades left in Britain.

The war hit the little industry hard and now there is a dearth of skilled labor in the industry.

To attract young men to the factories, lectures are given in schools, boys of glasswork are arranged for prospective recruits, posters are hung pointing out the high pay and security of the job.

The government has granted deferment from compulsory military service up to 21 years of age for young men apprenticing to trade.

In a technical school at Stourbridge recruits may learn the glass craft at the expense of the manufacturers.

But officials are not overly optimistic. They say the craft will not die out but its resurgence has not been great. And even if it were, there would be no immediate reflection in increased output because the training period goes up to six years.

Farmer Peeved When Hens Flock As Duck Sitters

CALGARY, July 22.—(CP)—There's no substitute for mother even in the farm yard.

When 40 duck eggs were deserted recently at a farm just outside Calgary, four local hens were called in to hatch the eggs. They weren't very good baby sitters.

Three of them got bored and left the job to the other hen. Despite valiant efforts by the other, only 25 of the 40 ducklings were hatched successfully.

The farmer was pretty disgusted with the whole affair. "Just like a woman," he said.

Kute Kitten Kries Kause Kommotion

Flight of one stranded kitten down an eight-foot drain attracted over a score of people and a city policeman in the scene of distress Wednesday night.

The desperate kitten yelled for over two hours down a drain at 97 street and 106 avenue before a successful rescue attempt was made.

The grate was taken off the top of the sewer and a 12-foot pole lowered. With the aid of an assistant holding a flashlight, the city policeman and an interested passerby were able to assist the kitten to the top.

Spectators said the kitten stood up, shook itself, yawned a bit on its two hind legs and weaved away.

Hiring of DP Families Urged by Labor Chief

OTTAWA, July 22.—(CP)—The labor department is trying to exploit a relatively untouched field of immigrants for Canada.

Arthur MacNamara, deputy minister of labor, said today in an interview an attempt is being made to persuade Canadians wanting domestic help that they can solve their problem by accepting small families of displaced persons.

"We're trying to put the thought in the heads of people who want domestic help that if they'll take a couple they'll get them right away," Mr. MacNamara said.

He said there are a number of reasons for the shortage of single girls among displaced persons who are interested in emigrating to Canada.

FEARED SEPARATION

Many girls in DP camps were afraid to leave parents fearing they would be absorbed behind the "iron curtain" and that they would never see them again.

He said the government is not relaxing its care in choosing families to come to Canada. It was just that in finding places for families, the scope of DP's to choose from would be widened.

In the circular Mr. MacNamara said most people who want domestic help are prominent in the community and in many cases the man of the house runs a business where the head of a DP family might be employed.

What is needed is a guarantee that work will be provided for any person in an immigration family who won't be doing domestic work.

Mr. MacNamara particularly mentioned farmers who can use domestic help along with help on the farm.

Refitted French Liner Begins New York Run

By Jack Bischo

LE HAVRE, France, July 22.—(UP)—France made a signal bid for a return to a position of eminence on the high seas yesterday when she launched the refurbished and proudly-bedecked Ile De France on her first postwar trip to New York.

Man Hanged For Killing 2

MONTREAL, July 22.—(CP)—Maurice Lebel, 28-year-old truck driver from St. Guy, Que., was hanged at Bordeaux jail early today for the beer-bottle murder of two Trois Pistoles. Que. men on July 1, 1948.

The nose was slipped over Lebel's neck shortly after midnight. He was pronounced dead by Dr. Romeo Plouffe, the jail physician, about 12:30 a.m.

An air of secrecy surrounded the hanging and jail officials steadfastly refused to give out information. News of the hanging came only after residents of the area around the jail phoned a newspaper in Montreal and asked why two prison birds had killed six times.

The date of execution had been previously set for July 6 and no explanation was offered as to why the hanging had been put back an additional 16 days.

Lebel was convicted last February of the brutal slaying of bank manager Louis Philippe Breton and taxi-driver Wilfrid Dumais.

Medical Panel Baby Surgery Proves Success

CHICAGO, July 22.—(AP)—Pamela Lamphere, three, altered by surgery from the small central figure in a family tragedy to a happy youngster with a future, left the hospital yesterday.

A year ago, doctors said Pam would die as the result of a bladder deformity unless it was corrected. Her mother, Irene, feared surgery would kill the child. Her father, Fred, insisted on an operation.

The Lampheres were on the verge of divorce but agreed to accept the decision of a medical panel on whether corrective surgery should be undertaken. The parents were reconciled.

Pamela told a reporter she intends to "help Mommy dress baby sister," Susan, born a month ago.

Egypt was conquered by Cambyses, King of Persia, in 525 B.C.

In maritime circles it was the biggest ceremony since England sent the Queen Elizabeth back to passenger service in 1946.

To the people of France it was an historic event. To them it meant a further confirmation that France is resuming her place in the sun.

BEAM WITH PRIDE

President Vincent Auriol, who received this correspondent and A. L. Bradford, United Press vice-president and general European manager, beamed with pride when the Ile was mentioned.

He assured me at the presidential palace in Paris shortly before the sailing that as a passenger on the "maiden voyage" I would find nothing wanting in what he described as "France all the way in New York."

The Ile will not be the greatest ship afloat. But according to officials of the French line who will make the crossing along with high ranking French citizens, she will be no vessel for comfort, service and cuisine.

12 DELUXE SUITES

Among the first class accommodations are 30 suites, each consisting of a bedroom and sitting room. Twelve of them are apartments deluxe—each named for a famous French chateau and decorated by a well-known French artist.

In these, and in other accommodations, champagne corks began to pop long before the sailing hour. But there was little danger of the supply being exhausted, aboard this 4,450-ton vessel.

The Ile's cellar held 5,000 bottles of champagne, 20,000 bottles of other wine and an ample supply of additional beverages.

FOOD GALORE
The Ile's kitchen held 20,000 pounds of beef, 6,000 pounds of fish, 4,000 chickens, ducks and turkeys and a large supply of smoked meats, fruits and other items.

Despite her elegance, the Ile has taken care that her major space is devoted, not to the white-tie-and-tail passengers but to the occupants of the cabin and tourist class.

Advance reports indicate the ceremonies on the other side will be completed with a whistle-blowing, water-spouting reception to mark the Ile's return to New York harbor on July 27.

Occult Doctor Booms $3 Fund Into $120,000

LONDON, July 22.—(UP)—Dr. A. George Hall, who spends his time surveying the occult and admitted to a sizable Canadian police record, said in London yesterday that in 10 months he turned a bank balance of about $3,000 into assets of close to $120,000.

It was strictly legal, he said. Hall arrived in London in May last year to set up in business as European secretary-general of what he called "The International Occult-Physic Research Guild."

In object, he said, was to teach the modern application, to all branches of personal relationship, advice and primal healing of "the basic principles disclosed in the accidental world in the Tibetan 'orga manuscript' and in other documents recording the knowledge and experience of the Far East."

But he used strictly western tactics in drumming up the small fortune which was used in part to buy the "Pearson Foundation College," an imposing 18th century house in fashionable Kensington.

Hall told a reporter that last September "we had only 15 shillings about $3 in the bank."

Next day I was shown this house and knew I had found what I had been seeking so long. The price was 25,000 pounds ($50,000). We raised the money by voluntary subscriptions, ranging from six pence a week upwards."

An additional $40,000 was spent on furniture which he said he used during daily public and private lectures.

The doctor, who boasts the full name of Alfred Ernest Edward George Hall, served seven terms of imprisonment in the past 25 years, police said, one of them a six months stint at hard labor imposed by a Vancouver court for obtaining money by false pretenses.

His "court of governors" have sent his police record but passed it off, he said, just as they did records that he had been deported from the United States to Canada three times.

Canadian Beef Exports Decline

Total Cattle Reduced By Exports to U.S. in 1948

WASHINGTON, July 22.—(CP)—Canadian cattle exports and beef production are expected to show a decline this year, the United Nations food and agriculture organization said last night.

In an extensive review of the world meat and livestock situation, FAO reported the world will probably have more meat to eat in 1949.

This prediction of improved production this year was included in FAO's estimate that world meat production in 1948 was 27,000,000 metric tons. (A metric ton is 2,240 pounds.)

DOWN FROM 1947

This figure is less than in 1947 when the world produced 28,000,000 metric tons. The pre-war average also was 28,000,000 metric tons.

Of the Canadian situation FAO said:

"Feed grains in comparison to livestock numbers in 1948-49 were at a record level and feed prices have declined relative to livestock prices."

"Canada's 1948 fall pig crop was, however, below that of 1947 and total hog numbers were about 14 per cent lower at the end of 1948 than in the preceding year."

"Thus, although the pig crop in meat of meat production in 1948," the FAO said, "a mild winter in Europe means a great saving of livestock feed supplies. There are now more plentiful than any one time since the war."

EXPANSION POSSIBLE

"This means that expansion in both livestock numbers and meat production is possible in Europe (weather remains normal). In Canada and the United States the supply of concentrate feed per animal is the highest on record."

The FAO forecast that with more feed available and greater livestock production in the making, less export markets for meat-producing countries during 1949 may be expected.

The UN agency said the volume of shipments from the eight major meat exporters of the world fell last year to about 16 per cent below the 1947 average and to 10 per cent below the pre-war figure. The effects were felt most in the United Kingdom, by far the heaviest importer of meat.

Calgary Buys 28 Gas Buses

CALGARY, July 22.—(CP)—City Council yesterday authorized the purchase of 28 Canadian-made gasoline buses for the Calgary city transit system.

Meeting in special session, the council okayed the purchase of 12 30-passenger Brill buses and 16 40-passenger Twin Coach buses, made in eastern Canada.

Decision to purchase the Canadian-made buses came after three applications in the Dominion government for gas under the export 28 diesel buses from the United States were turned down.

GUMS UP ACT

Trained Seal Falls in Love With Acrobat

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., July 22.—(AP)—This is the love story of Sharkey, a trained seal.

The story-teller is Max Roxy, publicity man for Steel Pier. Roxy said today the seal has fallen in love with a beautiful girl named Marion Foster.

Miss Foster, an attractive brunette, performs acrobatic stunts atop a willow pole.

One day this week, says Roxy, Miss Foster joined Sharkey for a swim in his tank after their afternoon performance.

"Marion swam around with Sharkey and held her arms outstretched while Sharkey leaped over the shapely barriers," said Roxy.

And, apparently that's where Sharkey did a flip about Miss Foster.

The next day Sharkey refused to hurdle a bar on which a stuffed doll is attached. It was the first time, said Roxy, that Sharkey balked at the wind-up trick of his performance.

"Oh, doctor, I'm so upset," said the woman. "My husband seems to be wandering in his mind."

"Isn't that what you want?" replied the doctor. "I know your husband—he can't go far."

MENTAL GIANTS
A fraternity to which I belong called the Racing Wizards. How to Select 'Em, and Blueberry Pickers' Association, is working feverishly this week at the Exhibition Grounds.

And by this time in the annual race meeting our touting outfit has generated enough brainpower to get any hungry horse to dig his fangs into a feed box full of oats.

For all practical purposes you can forget the blueberry pickers. How they came to be affiliated with our horse selectors is a juicy tale which is too hazy to divulge here. It is sufficient to say that they pick blueberries, we pick our horses, and I defy Harold Weir to make anything of it, regardless of how much snooping he does.

But you do not doubt are keen to know something about the leading lights in the field of racing wizardry: Mr. Lou Davies, eminent form chart specialist, and Madame Clairvoyant, purveyor of facts and figures as recorded by the tea leaves.

DEEP, MIGHTY DEEP
It is difficult to read the minds of these great thinkers. But inside Davies' teeming brain circumscribed by which he has forgotten although I used to know it as well as I know the first three bars of "O Canada," there are a mass of information on every horse in the country.

No one can say for example how Davies managed to pick Bobby Glaxton in the second yesterday with the footnote which merely said "to good form." Final result: The winning horse was turned out to pasture before Bobby Glaxton showed up at the head of the stretch 14 lengths in arrears.

And as for Madame Clairvoyant, well, she is a mighty deep. I have tried to probe her genius but she is very reluctant to talk about her because, in a sense, I am a business rival of hers, for I own controlling shares in Bowdard Beddoes Casual Choices, Inc.

STICKING TO BLUEBERRIES

"Trouble with you, Bowdard," said Clairvoyant over a pot of tea yesterday, "is that you make me out in the twilight while establishing your choices. For instance, you pick Lady O. Bowdard, the seventh Friday despite the fact that Laddner Sim is undoubtedly the fastest nag in the country."

"How do you arrive at that conclusion, Madame?" I asked meekly.

"Well, I knew me some simulating tea with this here Bowdard, blindfold me good eye what sleeping the liquid-hold out exclaimed the Madame, drawing into her cubicle. "This is a bit irregular. We belong to the same fraternity, at right, but you're right, you've made trade secrets to myself."

She dove at that.

"I myself, I am paying to learn that trade, I have made a winner since the second Thursday in July four years ago and am coming considerably closer to losing my status in the association."

Next year I think I'll stick to picking blueberries.

THREE DOT STUFF
Add sure-to-happen dept. At Anson will be offered the job of managing the Edmonton Exhibition football team when he returns from a business trip tomorrow.

Ernie Parr, Calgary boxing promoter, is a bit slower to learn the exhibition. According to Parr the largest crowd in Calgary history showed up to witness one of his promotions recently.

He expects to match Doug Harper, Negro lightweight who showed in Edmonton last winter, against Jerry Jemel at an early date. Jemel, currently fighting on the west coast, is the Canadian lightweight champion.

Clarkson Most Valuable To Date

Cub Swatter 'Owns' Averages, Leading in 7 of 8 Divisions

If the Big Four Baseball league was in the habit of singling out a player for most valuable honors, Cub Reg Clarkson would be a copper-riveted cinch to gain the honors on his play to this point.

Official averages released by the league office yesterday show the Cub second-sacker pacing the field in seven of eight departments. He literally owns the averages.

In 230 times at bat, the onetime Western league thumper has racked up 80 hits for a .377 batting mark, good for the No. 1 spot in this department. He's tops in hits, 80, and runs, 28.

MORE AND MORE
Likewise he leads in runs batted in, in 147, home-runs (the league of 60 says it's nine, there's a reason to believe the Cub star actually has walked 10 round-trippers, three have hit seven) and two-baggers (26).

Only in the stolen base section does Clarkson yield to anyone. Here Eskt Dave Brockie has 31 to his credit, four more than the Cub second-sacker.

The Big Four league's "Mr. Big" will be in action tonight at Renbow Park when Cubs tackle Calgary's Eskt Dave Brockie in a four-game weekend series.

Starting time is 8 o'clock. Teams play two games tomorrow at 2:30 and 8:00 p.m., the series winding up Sunday with a single encounter, timed for a 2:00 p.m. beginning.

NO SURPRISE
Clarkson's pre-eminent spot in the hitting averages should occasion little surprise. He had two seasons in organized baseball, playing with Puchin, Fort Worth, Mobile and Santa Barbara.

During the 1917 season he hit for a .333 mark in the Class A Western loop, his base-kicks (including 30 doubles) he was second in this department at the finish.

This season the former Brooklyn Dodger farmhand has switched from the outfield, first to shortstop and latterly to second base. Admittedly, he has been shaky in the field but no one can dispute his right to be labelled the greatest offensive threat in the four-team semi-pro inter-city circuit.

"Don Paul" Peterson seems a likely choice to open on the mound against Buffs tonight. First place Cubs have a four game edge on the runner-up Eskt at the weekend, as approaches the two-thirds way mark.

Race journeymen to Calgary for a weekend end against Buffs. Open seasoner is set for tonight.

ate of provincial honors last won by L. Evans and G. Evans in 1939, will be up for competition. Three other trophies will also be up for competition.

Macken Gives Canada 1st Win Over Aussies

MONTREAL, July 22 (CP)—Big Brendan Macken of Montreal ended Canada's victory-drought against Australia in Davis Cup tennis competition yesterday, scoring an upset triumph over smiling Billy Sidwell in an opening round singles match of the North American zone tie.

The 26-year-old Canadian gave a masterful demonstration of court finesse in overpowering Sidwell, 3-6, 7-5, 6-3, 5-7, 8-6 in a three-hour, long match.

SEDMAN EVENS SCORE
Victory gave Canada a 1-0 lead in the five-match series, but Australia's Frank Sedgman quickly evened it up by taking the measure of Henri Rochon of Montreal in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2, 6-2.

Sedgman, a 31-year-old singles champion of Australia, showed matchless form in all departments.

It was announced that Macken will pair with Walter Stohberg, 27, of Vancouver, in the doubles match today against the power-riveting Sedgman and lanky John Bromwich, 30, amideuxious playing captain of the Australian squad.

Stohberg and Bromwich sat out yesterday's matches along with Lorne Maier, Fort Worth, 18-year-old player who handles a racket with a double grip. Maier was the only Canadian to play in the four-team semi-pro inter-city circuit.

Macken, playing the best tennis of his career, lived up to pre-match notices that he was most likely to make the best showing for Canada. His victory surprised the Aussies who had predicted they would win the series without the loss of a match. It was the fifth meeting since 1914 between Australia and Canada, and on each of the four previous occasions Aussies had won.

"JOLLY GOOD SHOW"
Aussies had no excuses to offer. "Page is Macken's father, who commented, "That's one for Pop!" was all Macken could say after the match. "Page is Macken's father, who commented, "That's one for Pop!" was all Macken could say after the match.

"At last, my training has paid off," Macken said. "I've been working hard for this."

'Old Aches And Bones' Near Title

CHICAGO, July 22 (AP)—At an age when most baseball players are thumbing through their scrapbooks in an easy chair, 40-year-old Luke Appling is hustling toward a major league shortstop record.

Old aches-and-pains, at the ever-complaining Appling is fondly called, has less than 20 games to go to surpass the record mark of Rabbit Maranville, which has stood for 18 years.

Maranville was at shortstop in 2133 games from 1912 through 1931, except 1924 when he was out of action. It took him 19 playing seasons to record his iron-man stint.

Luke, a White Sox headline since coming up from Atlanta in 1930, will need only 17 seasons of play to top Rabbit's mark. Appling, in the Army in 1944 and '45, figured the new record will be booked about Aug. 4, and he is certain the baling wire which he insists is holding him together will last that long.

"I don't see how anything will keep me from that record," draws right at Renbow Park, while Appling, "I don't plan to stub my toe or anything like that and I'm not superstitious about black cats crossing my path. 'Course, my ankle hurts and my back still aches—they always do—but that baling wire will hold me up."

This related to his feat was the fact that he broke down three eighths of a mile from the wire only to continue on gamely on three legs.

Knights Pilots had never since, although in training at the east right now.

ONE 'FOR THE BOOK'
Rider Jimmy Phillip pulled one for the book yesterday when he bopped home a pair of winners, the aforementioned Royal Pilot and Irish Eregance, first in the wire in the opening race.

Recently Phillip, due to difficulty of making weight, had stalled away his back in the local racing. Then, possibly finding the life of a violet dull after the thrills of race-riding, Phillip went into training again and got back his license to accept mounts.

Yesterday the bay from Irishness showed he hadn't forgotten how while holed up with Lawrence DuPre and other members of the violet colony.

Prices were generally good at the annual summer fair meeting continued. While the sun shone with considerable force in the latter stages the track continued heavy from recent rains and the punters seemed to have a hard time tracking down winners.

Daily Double of Irish Elegance and Ace of Clubs returned $124.90. Bluffer the wazant! and Fox O'War ran one-two in the Midnight handicap to manufacture a quoniam payoff of $195. Numerically it was 3.

Elvin Arnold also rode two winners to tie with Jimmy Phillip for saddlestick honors.

Royal Pilot Wins Feature; Sister 'Shows' With Juveniles

By Stan Mohr

Shadow of Pagan Knight, sire of Knight Pilot, winner of the 1947 Alberta Derby, hung heavy over the race-track yesterday afternoon.

Not only did Pagan Carol, daughter of Pagan Knight-Royal Carol, run in spirited fashion to gain the show spot in the juvenile race, but as well owner Ken Inamasu's Royal Pilot, full brother of the filly, proved the good thing in the Kingsway handicap, feature event of the day.

Feature turned into a three-horse race before it was over. Edmonton-owned Fair Author, with Roy Russell in the irons, went to the top at the wire, closely followed by Bless You and Black Deer. Others, including Royal Pilot, trailed out behind. At one stage the eventual winner was 16 lengths in the drink.

At the quarter pole Royal Pilot still was a good four lengths off the wire. It took him 19 playing seasons to record his iron-man stint.

Luke, a White Sox headline since coming up from Atlanta in 1930, will need only 17 seasons of play to top Rabbit's mark. Appling, in the Army in 1944 and '45, figured the new record will be booked about Aug. 4, and he is certain the baling wire which he insists is holding him together will last that long.

... Gets green light

Legion Full Of Vigor

If confidence wins soccer games then Edmonton's North Side Legion will not be beaten by Saskatoon Athletics in the teenage national Dominion Football Association series between the two clubs in the Saskatchewan city this week-end.

Last night manager Martin Colquhoun of the North Side took a long look at his eleven in their last drill prior to leaving for Saskatoon tonight. Said he confidently.

"We'll win hands down."

Athletics, reportedly sporting a number of Indians, might make the Legion boss eat his words.

But Colquhoun doesn't think an North Side is fighting fit, with all 14 players in top shape. Halfback Jimmy Anderson had been a double full starter prior to last night due to pressure of work but that difficulty has been cleared away.

Southern Albertans Have Top Herefords

Southern Alberta exhibitors in Hereford cattle classes took most of the major prizes as judging concluded at the Edmonton & District Summer Fair.

W. A. Armstrong of Peace River, Alta., took grand champion Hereford cow at the fair, and second prize went to Chas. Johnson of Lacombe. Armstrong's cow, named "Queen," was a daughter of the famous "Queen" cow owned by the late J. H. Armstrong of Lacombe.

Shorthorns Rate High In Judging

Shorthorn cattle were highly prized at the Edmonton & District Summer Fair. The Shorthorn breed was represented by a large number of entries, and the judges were highly impressed with the quality of the animals. The Shorthorn breed is known for its hardiness and adaptability to the Canadian climate, and its meat is highly valued. ELEVATORS AT LEGAL TYPIFY RURAL ALBERTA SCENERY—Photo by Bland

Many people say that to see beautiful scenery one must travel through the mountains, or up and down a seacoast. But to many persons a scene such as this caught at Legal, skyline of grain elevators against background of clouds shining in the mid-morning sun, is all they want.

Dry Year Recalls Pet Gopher Story

By Ken Liddell
Provincial News Editor

Whenever you make a foray to the farm front around Edmonton these days, all you hear is talk of drouth.

To any newcomer from Saskatchewan, talk of drouth in a land of green vegetation doesn't seem to jibe.

Admittedly the year is dry and the crops are short, but one dry year doesn't make a major drouth any more than one swallow makes a summer.

For a farmer a dry year is the same as a business man making a bad purchase. He can realize a bad purchase. He can't make a bad purchase.

A dry year may make a hole in a man's bank account, but it doesn't break his spirit.

If a farmer gets seven bushels to the acre where he usually gets 12, he still gets something. It's just like the merchant knocking down the price to get rid of the stuff that was a bad buy.

But when you get nothing, mister, then you're haled it.

And when it happens the next year, you find it isn't just a make-down. It's a dead loss.

And when the grasshoppers eat it down before your eyes, leaving the fields like stumps of burned-over timber, then you may be excused for complaining.

And when the land blows and carries the sun and turns day into night and you see your ear head-lights and your home lamp at high noon, then, sir, you have a drouth.

In two months of traveling around the Edmonton area, we have yet to see a grasshopper.

There may be grasshoppers, we haven't been everywhere—but so far we haven't been bothered by them jumping into the ear and chewing holes in our straw hat while we were the thing as has happened on occasion.

Then they would spit at you.

We've seen some summer-flooded fields here, but we have yet to drive 10 miles under a blanket of dust, headlights burning and visibility cut to less than nothing, as we did in southern Saskatchewan one day in May.

We've heard people complaining about it being dry, but we haven't heard them telling any stories about how dry it is.

Like the one that used to go the rounds about the farmer with the pet gopher.

It blew into his home one day with the rest of the dirt and he got rather attached to it.

Every morning he opened the door and threw the gopher out.

If the gopher started to burrow before it hit the ground the fellow knew it was a bad day, so he shut the door and went back to bed.

And the one about the chap who was driving in the country when he met another fellow who seemed to be walking in the ditch. The motorist asked the man if he wanted a ride. The fellow said, "No, thanks, I'm riding a horse."

They were just stories, and as they went the rounds they seemed to intensify the spirit and help to keep it from breaking.

They also served a useful purpose.

They showed that while things were bad, they could always be worse.

Which seems to be the basis of western philosophy, and something worth remembering.

Athabasca Camp Closes Down

ATHABASCA, July 22.—Fifty years of camping at Camp Matawewin has drawn to a close. Campers and directors alike are unanimous in saying it is the most successful camp in date. Girls camp was from July 5 to 12 while the boys moved in for the next week.

Camp Matawewin means "Happy Playground" and started out five years ago with four cabins and a mess hall. Today there are six cabins, a large dining room, new kitchen and cook's quarters.

Leona Vance of Vermilion qualified for the "White" award, which is for the equipment to swim, a quarter of a mile, down three perfect consecutive dives, swim 25 yards while towing a "drowning" person and travel 50 yards with the backstroke.

Haying Time Here

ASHLEY, July 22.—Haying operations are scheduled to start in this area any day now. And while the crop will be lighter than last year, reserves are expected to carry farmers through the coming winter.

Toronto and Drumheller Mayors Trade Greetings

DRUMHELLER, July 22.—Friendly greetings were passed between the mayors of Drumheller and Toronto recently when the chief magistrate of the eastern city led a contingent of fellow Torontonians on a goodwill trip to the Calgary Stampede.

Mayor Hiram McCallum of Toronto telegraphed the following message to Mayor L. A. Bennett of Drumheller who read it at a city council meeting.

"Due to the fact that time does not permit a personal visit of the Toronto contingent to your city, I desire to extend on behalf of the citizens of Toronto and the large group on the Toronto-California train an expression of sincere goodwill on the occasion of our visit to participate in the Calgary Stampede."

Mayor Bennett's reply also was read to council. It follows: "Many thanks for your expression of goodwill which is highly appreciated and reciprocated. Believe your recent visit to our neighboring city of Calgary created an excellent impression and should go far in maintaining desired spirit of harmony and friendly co-operation. Best wishes to you personally for happy and successful city administration."

Ken Nelson Leaves Rocky for Red Deer

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, July 22.—Kenneth Nelson, who has operated a photographer's studio here for the past year, has sold his business to Eric Weber of Red Deer.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson have moved to Red Deer, where Mr. Nelson has joined the staff of the Manufacturers' Life.

Esther Cattleman Return from Tour

ESTHER, July 22.—Esther members of the Hereford Breeders' Association have returned home from a tour of various ranches in the Calgary area. And after seeing conditions on their tour they feel the outlook for good crops and high grade cattle this year is better at home than west.

Tour included the Burns ranch at Box Valley, the Wright and Bond ranch at Lethbridge, the T. Hunter and Al Price farms near Airdrie, and the Watson ranch at Crossfield.

J.C. Field Day At Vermilion

VERMILION, July 22.—More than 200 Junior Club members, along with their parents, held their annual field day at the School of Agriculture, Vermilion, today. The program of golf, tennis, volleyball, basketball, and other sports was held in attendance.

Program of golf, tennis, volleyball and basketball was held in attendance. N. N. Bentley, J. E. Hawker and J. L. Kerns in charge. Ashley part of the day was called off due to high winds and threatening weather and films were shown instead.

Walter Good Quits As Rocky Phone Man

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, July 22.—Walter Good, telephone agent here since 1945, has resigned and is moving to Red Deer to start a greenhouse there. Mrs. Roy Addy of Athabasca has been appointed telephone operator. Mr. Good's parents came to Rocky Mountain House in 1911 and established the first home here. After her husband's death, Mrs. Good was appointed telephone agent here in 1920 and she held the position until turning it over to her son in 1945.

South City Seeks Government Aid To Fight Erosion

Red Deer River Slowly Eats Way Towards City Residences

DRUMHELLER, July 22.—City council is going to seek federal and provincial aid in combatting erosion along Riverside Drive on the Red Deer River, which passes through town.

Present plans call for a brief, combining aerial pictures, factual evidence and a list of the property concerned, that will be turned over to the proper authorities.

INSPECTED SITE

The problem of erosion was called to the attention of the City Council some time ago by Councillor Allan Hamilton, long-time resident of the district in question, at his suggestion a committee composed of Gordon Taylor, M.L.A., C. J. Johnston, M.P., city manager, Dune Robertson and himself inspected the site.

Homes directly in the path of the steady weathering are those on the river bank next to the municipal hospital.

Changes in the bed of the river during the past few years and spring floods are believed to be the main causes of the erosion. Last year the area was swept by one of the worst floods in the history of the valley.

So far, no one has come up with a method of combatting the erosion.

Alaska Defence Said Adequate, But Kept Secret

WASHINGTON, July 22.—(AP)—Defence Secretary Louis Johnson assured senators today that adequate plans for defending Alaska are in operation but he asked to tell about them at a secret session.

Johnson appeared before the senate armed services committee to urge quick approval of $44,000,000 worth of construction projects for the army, navy and air forces.

The work would be done both in the United States and overseas.

The bill before the committee includes $26,000,000 worth of projects and construction in Alaska.

Botha Wins Tourney
BOTHAS, July 22.—Homesteaders captured the baseball tournament which featured the annual curling club outing by nudging Red Willow in a closely-contested final game. Some $200 was taken in by the club.

The image contains three separate illustrations of stoves, each with a caption below it. On the left is a 'CAMP STOVE', which is a small, boxy unit with a single burner and a handle on top. In the center is a 'SELF-HEATING IRON', which is a more complex, mechanical-looking device with a large circular component and various pipes and valves. On the right is an 'INSTANT GAS STOVE', which is a tall, narrow unit with a single burner at the top and a base that looks like a small table or stand.
